

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A method and system is disclosed for creating and using non-scalar valued financial instruments. The method and system addresses the problems caused by limiting the value of financial instruments to scalar quantities. Applications of the method and system include recreation, education, therapeutic intervention, and finance.